Ms. Lin: Dragon Temple is over five hundred years old. It's beautiful and also historical. It draws many people from around the world to see it and also brings lots of business to my store. We should just ask people from the temple to fix the problems of dirty and noises, instead of moving the temple.

Mr. Wang: Many people come and go every day. They make noises and throw trash on the streets. Some strange people even ask the temple's visitors to give them money or buy things from them. If visitors don't do it, they will shout at the visitors on the streets. To my kids, they are terrible. The temple must move.

Mrs. Wu: The most serious problem about Dragon Temple is the noises on some special days. The temple holds festivals on those days and opens until late at night. My family usually go to bed early, but we have to stay up late on those nights. I agree that the temple is a great piece of art, and we won't ask it to move. I just hope someone from the temple can do something to fix the problem.

Mr. Chen: Dragon Temple is useful to us. For example, there are several different classes during the day and also camps in summer for us to join. People for the temple also help take care of our kids when we have to work. Many children learn a lot and have fun there. As for the dirty air and noises, we can simple fix them by closing our windows.

(D) Ms. Lin owns a store near Dragon Temple.

(二)

Venus is sometimes called the Earth's "sister" or "twin." That's because it is the planet nearest to the Earth. It is also about the same size as the Earth.

But Venus is different from the Earth in many ways. Venus is much hotter than the Earth. It is about 850 degrees on Venus surface!

The air or atmosphere around Venus is thick and heavy. It is so thick that you cannot see through it. The air traps the sun's heat.
