I don't know whether I'm dying soon, so I have to tell everyone about my story. Hundreds of years ago, I was born in the world. Many animals like fish and frogs lived with me. Many children swam, caught fish, and played water in me. I had a very wonderful life. However, everything changed about twenty years ago. More and more factories and houses were built near me. Some people put garbage in me; the water from factories also flowed into me. After that, most of the animals in me died because of them. Even children hated to play in me.

Yesterday an old friend of mine took his sons to say hello. When he saw me, he felt surprised and sad. He told his boys to take the garbage out from me. However, I was too dirty to be cleaned in a short time, so they gave it up. I really want to sleep; I have to stop my story now.
